

gorgeously gruesome.

Pop-surrealist Rebecca Murphy's creepy, yet mesmerising, works stem from back in high school, when she would fashion special-effects bruises, cuts and slit throats on herself. "Mum shot a roll of film, which she took to be developed at the local photo store. They thought someone had been murdered! They were about to call the police when they noticed the very last pic was of me, completely unharmed and smiling at the camera." Check out rebecca-murphy.net for more!

MINI OBSESSIONS

One of the joys of working at CLEO is witnessing the many micro-trends being paraded through our doors. Here are some of our current treasures.

BAG, $225, samvara.com.au

WANNA SHAG?

In this case, yes, we do. (So long as it's faux fur!)

JACKET, $239.95, seduce.com.au

T-SHIRT, $44.95, sassclothing.com.au

BLACK + WHITE

It's just so fresh, so clean ...

SCRUNCHIE, $12, americanapparel.com.au

Knuckledusters have never looked as good as this witty "key" ring.
