Biography

Spanish born artist, Jose Ramon Lozano lives and works in Madrid. A painter and engraver, he graduated in Fine Arts by Granada University and began painting as soon as he finished his degree. He won the 1st Young Artist Award in painting and engraving, in Malaga, 2009. Honourable Mention at Alonso Cano's Prizes and at the Ramon Portillo Painting Award in 2011.

Lozano is an expresionistic painter but his portraits are his speciality. He feels that the viewers is better connected with his portraits, creating a dependent relationship with the subject and a powerful emotional connection.

His work is disturbing and moving. Confronting yet connecting. Despondent yet beautiful. Lozano's work immerses us in a world of contemplative images through depiction of erratic souls, whose eyes speak of glimpses of an elusive existence, allowing the viewer to contemplate these figures as themselves as if in a mirror.

Jose reminds us that while the human condition requires us to feel bereft, hurt and frightened at times, these emotions, while uncomfortable, are innately visceral and part of a fully lived life.

Biography

Beau Bernier Frank is a French-American surrealist painter.

Beau lives his work and is dedicated to his artistic process. He is inspired, organised and expressive, and this flows through his work. His life as an individual and as an artist are inseparable entities as Beau lives out his practice with specific consideration to all areas of his life. This intention resonates in his emotive, highly detailed work, where Beau realises the fruits of his labour through succinct stages that may be described as inspiration, organisation through to realisation; "First...I keep my eyes open (for) signals from the ether. The second stage is much more reasonable. I organise my days...the third stage is all about sharing my craft. I photograph my work. Share my work in progresses...connect with other artists."

Beau's work is distinctive, with his collections including collaged, surreal portraits draped with patchworks of landscapes, singular subject moody landscapes and general expressionistic portraits. Yet all his various works share a single truth; that Beau clearly sees the world through a lens where beauty is defined by story, feeling and context as opposed to mere aesthetic.
